Building Blocks to Writing

I can make

marks using any part of my body

I can effectively grasp objects of varying

sizes and develop an effective pincer grip

muscles in my hand and arm to make big

movements

Based on the City of York Children's Centres publication.

different

textures (touch

sensitivity)

I can isolate and

press firmly with my right and left

index fingers